• • • The population of the state in 1890, it shows, was 2.5°2.184, a growth of 510,806 in the ten years, or 23.36 per cent. Of the 114 counties in the state all but ten show gains, while the falling off in the ten counties is but trifling. The greatest growth is in the mining localities and in those which contain large cities. On the whole the increase is pretty evenly distributed between the counties. There has been nothing which rould be called a boom anywhere except in some of the cities in the western part of the state. The growth has been natural and healthy everywhere. The increase from fourteen cities and towns having a population of 4,000 or upward in 18-9 to twenty-one in 1800 was something which might reasonable to these localed for might reasonable to these localed for midstiff. The parade was exceedingly credits of her being in this order: New York, Pennsyivania, Illinois and Ohio. None of these states, except Illinois, grew in so high a ratio as Missouri since 1881. Very few of the older states maintained their rate of increase so well. The 28 M per cent of gain in the past ten years compares favorably with the 25.97 of the preceding ten. A greater increase, both absolute and relative, is expected in the decade which has now begun. Most of the growth of the past ten years, it is known was made in the last third of that period. The movement of settlers in this direction is being earried on on an unusually large scale at the present time.

Only at a date comparatively recent did the great natural resources of the state come to be known to any extent to the rest of the country. Even yet the knowiedge of this sort is not so widely extended as it should be, or as it will be in a few years. All the indications point to a grand future for Missouri. * When the knowiedge of her immense capabilities in the direction of agriculture, mining and manufacturing become widely known abe will make greater and more conspicuous advances than any she has thus far secored. Hanged by a Mob. MILWAUKEE, Win., Sept. 22.- A Day lington, Wis., special to the Journal says: Anton Seibolt, who bounded James Meighan to death last Wednes-day, was taken from the jail here yesrday by a mob and hanged to a tree in the park until dead. This was the day set for his preliminary hearing, and he was brought to town at 11:40 a. m., from Monroe, Green county, where he had been taken for safe keeping, a meb having threatened to lynch him lagt Thursday. He was cool and adjusted the rope about his neck. The lynchis g William Wetzel, of St. Louis, aged 24 years, has been committed to the insane asylum. He is a cigarette fiend, and the rope about his neck. The meets with ger aral approval.

IN THE NORTHWEST,

the acre is better in quality, than ever before. The railways, Mr. Thomson says would be taxed to the full capa-city of their equipment for mouths to more this tremendous tonnage. He found the railway managers of the northwestern lines all fully alive to the situation, and making every possi-ble arrangement to meet the numbual ble arrangement to meet the I demands upon them.

On his way westward Mr. Thomson stopped in Chicago and he was very greatly impressed with the excellence of the plans and arrangements of the World's Columbian exhibition, and pre-dicts, without hesitation, that the Chi-cago World's fair will be the largest, most important and most magnifice ever held. He was particularly pleas with the scheme for interior water transportation and says it will prove to be most restful to visitors. Mr. Thomson visited the Yellerstone park and is most enthusiastic ging that it affords more of interest and pleasure to the traveler than any other part of our country, and that a fort-night's trip from the seacoast will enaevery comfort, and have six days in the Yellowstone, where the arrangements for stage transportation through the park and the conveniences of the hotels are unexceled, and that the long rail ride from St. Paul, over the North-

The changes in the far northwest, brought by the opening of James J. Hill's great northern railway, Mr. Thomson says, are wonderfully strik-ing, and the extension of that line to the Pacific coast will make it one of the most prominent arteries of tho traffic across the continent. Mr. Thomson returned home more impressed with the vastness of the wealth and resources of the country than after his many previous western visits, and he does not lose sight of the fact that the condition of foreign mar kets will give our farmers such an op-portunity as they have never had be-fore and that the addition to the wealth of the country this year will probably be greater than any previous year in inything for a Horse to Get to the New Eldorado-Enough Would-Be Settlers on the Newly-Opened Lands to Occupy Ten Times as Much. GUTHRIE, Okla., Sept. 22.—"A horse, a horse, my pile for a horse," is the cry pointed men and women who have arrived here on the trains and can not get transportation to the new lands. Many have given up and will leave, fifteen miles in the hot September his wife and fourteen children, are now strip, hoping to get homes in the new Eldorado. Couriers from the different county seats say the surveys can not be finished before Friday night, and thousands will be camped around each by that time. The supply of water is already short, and before the week is out water will be worth twenty-five cents a glass there. The locations of the town sites are miserable, and there is already a movement on foot to move the towns by force to better locations.

At Langston the negroes are getting restless and trouble will surely occur etween the races there. At Topee one man was killed Sunday night, and as hundreds are drunk

Bad Business for a Frencher's Son. CORTLAND, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Edward Damon, only son of Rev. Albert N. Damon, of the Methodist church at and it is said he has left town. He was to have been married on Wednesday evening to Elia Martin, a waitress at the Hotel Burns. The girl was all ready for the wedding which was to occur at some minister's, she forgets the name. She is still a waitress and waiting for Damon. She intimates that she will begin breach of promise proceedings. It is said Damon's father prevented him from marrying the girl.
